Poly May Have Saturday Morning Classes In Spring

Possibility of Saturday morning classes during the spring quarter at California Polytechnic was announced this week by Eugene A. Egan, registrar. The proposal which would mean that school would be adjourned one week earlier than scheduled has been suggested, and is being given serious consideration by the administration, faculty and students.

Spring Sign-up On March 9

Procedure for registration for the Spring quarter at California Polytechnic will follow closely the plan used at the winter registration, Eugene A. Egan, registrar, stated.

The class schedule for the new quarter will also be as similar to the present schedule as possible, he said.

Students will first make arrangements with the accounting office, then secure their class cards and program cards from the registrar, and then report to the A. C. auditorium where they will fill out their schedules with the assistance of faculty members.

There are a number of applications on hand from students interested in entering Poly for the spring quarter, and indications are that the increase in enrollment will be as great as that at the start of the winter quarter. 25 boys started their college work here at that time.

Civil Service Men To Train At Poly

Thirty-eight young men now on the civil service rolls of the U. S. government will start national defense training work here March 2, Dean C. E. Knott, head of the industrial department, announced yesterday. The new students will be taking radio and aircraft electricians work in Poly shops while receiving $75 a month salaries.

This is part of the government's program of training men who pass civil service examinations to fill positions essential in the defense program. The courses will last approximately four months, and upon completion of their course here the 38 students will be eligible for work in the U. S. air corps in civil service posts. 20 will be in radio work training, while 18 are taking aircraft electricians work.

Civil service examinations for this type of work has closed, but examinations are still open for men who want to take civil service training as radiomen and electricians for the signal corps. Students interested should see civil service examination announcement 15-73.

Meat Cuts Talk At Boots and Spurs

Davenport Phelps of the National Livestock and Meat Board gave an interesting talk on meat cuts and the value of proper methods of cutting carcasses to get the best use, at the Boots and Spurs meeting Tuesday.

Phelps stated that one of the main jobs of the meat board is to popularize the use of more meat at the home.

Use Care When Using Dumps

To assure that the school dumping grounds will have an orderly appearance, and that those concerned with it will get the most efficient use out of it, the administrative council has issued six regulations governing its use.

1—Pick up any materials blown from the trucks on the way to the dump.

2—Place all rubbish over the bank in the dump.

3—Do not place any wet garbage in the dump.

4—Do not use the dump for large metal pieces, such as automobile bodies.

5—Whenever possible, burn the rubbish when you place it in the dump. The new state law requires that dumps should not burn during the night when they are near a military reservation. Under all circumstances burn the paper when it is placed in the dump. This will prevent it from blowing against the fences and scattering over the hog unit.

6—The dump should be used for campus purposes only. When outsiders place rubbish in the dump, please report it to the main office.

Poly Royal Plans Nearly Complete

By Walt Dougherty

Ten years ago, on March 31, 1933, Cal Poly held its First Poly Royal. This event, the first of its kind in the history of the college, was at that time only a one-day affair.

Since that historic Saturday of the first Poly Royal, this event has become an annual "open house" party put on by the student body of the college. It is in all reality "A County Fair on a College Campus."

Looking back through the Poly Royal records and programs, one can see the progress that has been made in leaps and bounds in the planning and executing of each year's show. One can also note with pride the progress and achievements the school has accomplished in comparing the map of the campus, which formed the center page of the first Poly Royal program, with a map of the campus as it is today.

This year's Poly Royal marks a decade of successful annual "open house" parties sponsored and run by the student body. But the situation confronting us as we prepare for our Tenth Annual Poly Royal is by no means as encouraging as it has been in years past. The realization that we are faced with economic shortages due to world-wide conflict makes our task this year greater than ever.

The present war is being felt in every corner of the world, and on our campus it is also taking its toll. But the student body of Cal Poly has the stuff it takes to lick such problems as has been demonstrated in the past. And even with the knowledge confronting us that this year's Poly Royal will very likely experience a sharp decrease in the number of visitors that will be in attendance, students are nevertheless determined to excel the past records of our Poly Royal shows.

An added attraction of this Tenth Annual Poly Royal will be two queens from neighboring state colleges. San Francisco State will send lovely Miss Barbara Biggs, Queen of the Ninth Annual Poly Royal, who will yield her crown to the chosen Queen from Fresno State College at the Coronation Ball ceremony on Saturday night, April 26.

Production Credit Talk For Young Farmers

Highlight of the Young Farmers meeting to be held next Thursday morning will be a talk by Joe Arsenio, of the local Production Credit Association office. He will speak on credit in relation to the farmer of today. Arsenio will discuss credit conditions under the world situation.

Also to be presented at the meeting will be plans for the dance in March, and election of a new treasurer.

The meeting will be held at 10 a. m. Thursday in Class Room 6.

OFFICIAL NOTICE

By Harry Goodman

Despite the rumor to the contrary, classes will be held on Monday, Dean Oscar F. Lucksinger announced. This is necessary because of the increased speed of our training schedule.

Collegians Really Wow Them At High School Assembly Wednesday

Gasps of amazement and awe greeted the Cal Poly Collegians as the curtain of the San Luis Obispo High School auditorium was drawn open Wednesday morning. Too amazed to applaud, the students just listened and sighed to the sweet strains of the orchestra's theme song, "Sophisticated Swing." Then thunderous applause greeted the Collegians.

Four Boys Take Over Runty, Wormy Hogs

By Johnny Brice

Forty runt hogs have been taken as a project by George Johnson, Warner Smith, Jack Spencer, and Johnny Brice. The four boys will experiment with feed mixtures and vitamin concentrates to see how profitably gains can be made on such pigs.

At the present time the runts are being fed a grain mixture, milk, and a half-pint of B-G concentrate a day.

Among the things the boys hope to learn by working with these pigs is how quickly they can be raised to market weight in comparison to pigs which have normal growth, and which feeds are best for feeding runt pigs. They also feel that with such a group of hogs, in which there is a percentage of weaker pigs, there is more opportunity to learn about diseases affecting swine, and care of swine under abnormal conditions.

Last year Blake Zavits conducted a similar project with 18 hogs. Feeding nearly the same grain mix, and also using the B-G mixture, he was able to earn $42 profit.

SENIOR MEETING

Plans for a dinner, a dance, present to the school, the senior bench, and pillars for the entrance to the campus were discussed at the senior class meeting last week.

A dinner for members of the senior class will be held in the J. C. room of the cafe Thursday.

Other plans were only tentative. Cecil Graham was elected vice-president of the class.

Still More Short Course Enrollees

Three weeks after the registration of short course students, enrollment of short termers here at Poly was still increasing, according to Eugene A. Egan, registrar. One more student signed at the San Luis branch, and two have enrolled at San Dimas.

Rainbow Girls At Dance Tonite

The Rainbow Girls, one of the finest girls' organizations in San Luis Obispo, will be guests of the Collegiate Club this Friday night. The aim of these dances is to get more Poly men acquainted with such girls, but as one girl remarked, "I had a fine time at the dance, but I only know two Poly boys. I wish that they'd introduce themselves when they dance with me." How about it fellows, why don't you make yourselves known to these guests—make a date!

According to the presidents of our three fraternities, one of the aims of these members this year will be to date and bring more San Luis Obispo girls to our dances. This is starting a fine custom. How about the rest of our many organizations doing the same thing?

Some of the newer tunes will be played at the dance, among them "Humpty Dumpty Heart."

Defense Theme For Dairy Dance

The Los Lecheros club will put on their annual dance Saturday, February 28. The dairy boys have chosen a national defense theme which will be carried out in decorations.

Committees in charge of the dance are:

General Decorations—Harlan Detlefsen, chairman, Arthur Gibson, Arthur Grant, Hans Hansen, Maurice Ketcher, James Lawson, Kent Freeman, W. Harms, Avery Overgaard, Jack White, Carter Walker.

Center piece—Bob Procsal, chairman, Alvin Quist, Earl Bishop, Alfred Filippini, James Moore, Bob Winterbourne.

Publicity—Maurice Friedman, chairman, Henry House, Don Crawford.

Baskets—Keith Benton, chairman, Jack Anderson, Robert Pata, Eldon Root, Bob Speck, Whitmore.

Program—George Makimoto, chairman, Earl Ambrosini, James Allen.

Orchestra—Clifford Detlefsen, chairman, S. Urolle.

Expect 50c A Head Profit On Fed Lambs

By Norman Mason

Preliminary figures indicate that a profit of 50 cents per head will be made on the sheep project recently closed out, Spelman B. Collins, sheep instructor, announced. The project books have not been completely summarized, but a comparison of the sale price with the initial cost of the lambs and the feed costs show that nearly all the projects will make a profit, with one group fed a special mixture expected to only break even.

A report from Swift and Company shows that the lambs dressed out 47.6 per cent. While this figure is lower than the buyers expected, it is considered good since the project sheep were carrying heavy fleeces.

The same report said that 205 of the carcasses were graded choice, 50 good, and eight medium. While the carcasses graded uniformly, they were not uniform in size.

Swift says, though, that the meat was slightly soft, which may be attributed to the beans fed as grain.

While here at the school the feeder lambs had been given a ration consisting of beans and chopped oat and vetch hay. The bean allotment started at nearly one pound daily and was increased, in some cases, to better than two pounds per day per lamb. Daily gains averaged from one-fourth to one-third of a pound per head.

TIME FOR ACTION

The time for talk of plans for the Poly Royal is past. It is now time for going into action on those plans. It is time for making preparations for "The Country Fair On A College Campus."

There is only two months left in which to get everything in readiness for the big show. The editor's past experience with shows of a similar nature, but on a smaller scale, has shown that the success of them depends on how well they have been planned; how well those who take part in the show either behind the scenes or in the limelight, know what they are to do; and on having everything necessary to the show on hand before the show, and in perfect working condition.

Now is the time for checking up on the condition of materials to be used in the show; on panels, etc., used for exhibiting livestock; and on the thousand and one other little things that make it easier for the public to view the show, and for the students to present the "Country Fair." Don't wait until the night before the Poly Royal.

Buy a Defense Stamp, Help U. S.

There are several ways—important—in helping our mother country in its hour of dire need.

Aside from thoughtful silence and wise conservation, is intelligent saving, the media of which is U. S. Defense stamps and bonds.

Buying such stamps is intelligent saving. It not only helps the government in her plan of reducing public buying power, but correspondingly increases hers, and puts aside a reserve sum for the uncertain times ahead.

The federal government doesn't just want the thousand dollar bonds of the rich, but rather the many dimes and quarters from the portion of the people to whom a dime normally means the luxuries, the pleasures, the fun of living, but never the saving, the conserving.

Poly Portraits

By Snuffy Smith

This week we introduce you to a boy who is one of the most likeable chaps on the Cal Poly campus. When ever or where ever you meet him there is always a cheery "Hi Hi" and a big broad smile.

He has played drums with the Collegians for the past four years and has always been in one of the feature "combos" usually with the Collegians. He also sings with the Cal Poly Men's Glee Club.

The boy is a very versatile musician as he played solo clarinet for San Bernardino High his last year there, he now plays drums and guitar for the school dance band, and as the boys in Deuel Dorm know him, he is the "Maestro of Boogie Woogie" on the piano. The most amazing thing about this boy is that he plays all these instruments well.

One of the interesting things that the fellows in the glee club tell me is that last year's tour brought this boy a new name, "The Marysville Lover." His only comment on this trip, when the bus reached the Cal Poly Campus, was, "This sure has been a swell trip and I hope we make the same rounds next year. The reason for this was that a certain girl in Marysville had caught (well you know the rest).

He is an Ornamental Horticulture major, in his last lap of school, those in the music department are afraid, since he is past that certain age when the old saying has come true, "Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their country." (For the slower thinking students his draft classification is 1-B.)

You all remember him for the Boogie Woogie Five, the Four Colonels, and many other outstanding assembly features. He is Kenny Hawkins.

CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD

In a regulation issued today by the Civil Aeronautics Board, pilots' certificates due to expire between January 28, and April 28, will be automatically extended ninety days and will not require endorsement during that time.

The Board stated that due to the greatly increased number of certificates currently in effect, and because of the extra work placed upon the Civil Aeronautics Administration inspectors in carrying out emergency regulations covering civil flying in wartime, it would be impossible for inspectors to endorse certificates during the period named.

Book On New York In Library

By Wayne Keast

A very recent arrival in the Cal Poly Library is the book entitled, "One Thousand and One Afternoons in New York" by Ben Hecht. Hecht is on the famous writing team, Hecht and McArthur, who have given us some of our best Broadway plays and movies. These sketches were made by Hecht when he recently covered New York for the Newspaper P. M. The Library also has another volume of short stories by Hecht called, "Book of Miracles."

"54-40 or Fight," is a new title in the library by the well known writer of classic westerns, Emerson Hough. He also authored "Covered Wagon," and "Frontier Omnibus." We have these too.

Mr. Lash predicts, "another book that will be popular with students is 'Delliah' by Marcas Goodrich." This book, the best seller since it was published last year, tells the thrilling he-man's yarn of its heroine, Delliah, a destroyer in the last World War. Critics all agree that Delliah is one of the most powerful stories of adventure that has recently appeared. Its appeal is especially for men.

"BANK" SAYS "BUY BONDS"

John Sohrakof gave Miss Chases' English class a rare treat, when he gave a talk on Defense Bonds.

During his talk he gave view points on how Democracy ranks over the Axis. His main point was stressed on their value. When you buy an $18.75 bond and receive $25 ten years later you are getting an interest rate of 2.9 per cent for your money. All these bonds are free from federal tax.

He also stated that bonds keep down inflation. "Bonds," he stated, "will also keep depression from setting in after the war is over."

Notice to the Editor and all campus organizations: As I promised recently the matter of clearing student events through the student body vice-president and the maintenance of a public events calendar was brought up in the last S. A. C. meeting. Students have complained that they knew nothing about clearing such events through the vice-president. If they knew nothing about it then they certainly haven't been very watchful or interested enough in campus activities.

At the beginning of the fall quarter the vice-president gave notice to all organizations through the El Mustang in two consecutive issues of the paper. The Block "P" club has been the ONLY campus organization to co-operate with the vice-prexy in this matter. Consequently no one can rightly say that the vice-prexy hasn't been doing his job properly. He's been doing a swell job and getting darned little co-operation in the scheduling of events.

Notice is hereby given to all organizations to clear their events through the vice-prexy on the student activity calendar from this date on. First come, first served.

The Poly Royal executive committee has been going great guns these last few weeks and are accomplishing plenty. The plans and foundation for our Tenth Annual Poly Royal are well under way and your executive committee is busy preparing to carry out these plans.

Shh--Poly Lost To Chapman

Cal Poly Mustangs lost to Chapman College last Saturday night in a thrilling, hard fought game, 68-40.

The Chapman College boys who the night before beat Pepperdine College, played a beautiful game. Begley, a forward from Chapman was high point man for them with 32 points.

Goodbody was high point man for the Mustangs.

The night before Poly met the San Dimas unit and won by a score of 47 to 30. The San Dimas boys put up a good fight, but it was not good enough to overcome the power of the Mustangs.

The boys on the team said they had a wonderful time and plenty of good food, especially oranges.

This Friday and Saturday nights Cal Poly plays Pepperdine in Los Angeles. If any of the students are down this weekend let's turn out and support our team.

Poultrymen Win From Poly Phase

The Poultry club continued its winning streak by downing a hard fighting team from the electrical department in a rough game which ended with the poultrymen on top by a score of 50-34. The Poultry club took an early lead which it held throughout the game. Paul Bernard of the Poultry club was hitting the basket consistently and carried off high point honors, with Uta Nakamura, dead-eye forward of the electrical team taking the second honors. This is the second straight win for the poultrymen, having knocked off the Crops club in last week's battle.

Crops Loses To Dairy Club, 25-20

The Dairy club emerged victors of a close fought battle with the Crops club Wednesday night, as the series of practice club basketball games progressed this week. Final score was 25-20.

Dairy—Procal, Lieb 4, Makimoto 6, Winterbourne 11, H. Detlefsen, Root, C. Detlefsen, Filipponi, Ambrosini 2, Santos 2. Crops—Rising 4, Wait, Romans 4, Fisher 8, Warden 2, Johnson 2, Flammson, McCorkle, Wilson, Carley.

Experienced Fighters On Fun Nite Card Wednesday

The name Baer has stood out in fight circles for a long time now — and Poly will add another—spelled Baer—but pronounced the same as the famous fighting brothers Max and Buddy when the Block P presents its second Fun Nite next Wednesday.

March Fun Nite For Poly Royal

Although the February Fun Nite is only five days away, Block P members are busily planning for two more such nights and for a banquet for those who have participated in past fistic frolics.

Gordy Woods, Block P proxy, announced that the club plans to produce another boxing card in about a month, the proceeds of which will go to the Poly Royal committee.

Fighters who participate in three Fun Nite programs will be awarded a CP monogram with boxing insignia. Those who score the highest points in their weight division will be awarded golden gloves. All awards will be made at a banquet to be given following the last Fun Nite this spring.

Three Meets Lined Up For Track Team

According to Track Coach Paul Gifford, three track meets have already been scheduled for this season, and several others are tentative. Gifford said, "I think we will make a very good showing in the coming meets with the men we have back from last year and the new material."

Coach Howie O'Daniels has charge of the scheduling of all meets. The track events are under supervision of Gifford, while Chuck Pavelko has charge of the field events.

The meets are scheduled as follows:

March 14—San Francisco State, there.

April 14—Taft Junior College, here.

April 25—Poly Relays, here.

Equipment will be issued to all who are interested in coming out for track.

Poly Royal Plans Made By Ag Mechanics Club

The Ag Mech group held their weekly meeting last Tuesday. They discussed Poly Royal activities that they were to have. James Merson, class instructor, presented the group with a new plan on farm machinery work. Each student will have to put in a certain amount of time out of school hours, working on different kinds of machinery, so as to get a broader view of farm problems.

Winning a fight as recently as last Saturday, Carol Baer, 185 pound Madera boxer gives promise of being the highlight of next week's card.

The minute mauler topped off his list of ring achievements when he won the 185-pound class match at Ryan's auditorium in Merced this week-end. He was representing Madera in a school tourney.

Last fall Baer won the 118-pound class in the American Legion school boxers exhibition. He was awarded a Legion emblem and boxing trunks.

The previous spring the Madera fighter won the 118-pound weight in an inter-class boxing tournament at Madera high school.

Baer will be matched with a student from the NYA unit.

The main event of the evening will be a bout between George Santos and Bob Procal. Santos tips the scales at 180 pounds and fought in the main event last time.

Procal, weighing 175 pounds, has participated in Fun Nite for the last three years and has lost only one bout on a split decision. Both boys have been training hard and this bout promises to be a real slug-fest.

Plenty of leather is going to be thrown when Mel McMurtry meets Guido Sargenti in a bout that will bring the fight fans to their feet. McMurtry is a new comer to Cal Poly fistic fans, but is one of the classiest fighters at Poly. Sargenti already has one victory under his belt and is in perfect shape and hopes to keep his record clean.

Maurice Ketscher, 185 pounds, one of the outstanding boxers on the team, will meet a fast boy from the NYA units, Dick Hill, an up and coming boxer with plenty of class will tangle with an opponent yet to be named. Jim Lawson, a clever southpaw weighing 140 pounds, will make his initial appearance this Fun Nite against Joe Oldham, also weighing 140 pounds and a rugged slugger.

Scheduled to appear on the card but without opponents as yet are Foster Stanfield, 115 pounder, from Los Angeles, and Bill Whitmore, 145, also of L. A.

The height of something or other is the special grudge match between Sohrakoff and Jiro Kai. It will be a wrestling bout, Gordy Woods, Block P proxy says. But Dame Rumor has it that the little Kai will have a few tricks up his sleeve that aren't in the wrestling book.

In the program a special balloon battle royal will be held. One representative from each of the various departments of the school will take part in the melee.

Musical entertainment will also be provided.

Special rivalry will be present in the appearance of several NYA boys on the card. Block P members are now selling tickets, adults 30c, students 15c, including tax.

Dairy Breeders Meet At Poly

By Robert K. Speck
Mr. Robinson, field representative for the American Guernsey Cattle Club, spoke at a meeting of San Luis Obispo county Guernsey breeders and Poly students last Thursday night in Class Room 6. The speaker showed the audience how to make out pedigree records. Last night Mr. Lowry, representative organization gave a similar talk.

O'Daniels Names Best Bets For '42 Team

By Ken W. Anderson
Although spring is still around the corner, Mustang baseball players have begun practice sessions in preparation for their first game with Santa Barbara State, March 7.

Of those who have turned out for practice, the best for this season's team are Sohrakoff, Steward, Crawford, Mallony, West, Eguia, Makimoto, Dominechelli, Valenzuela, Arthur, Goodbody, Stier, and Boudinot.

Coach Howie O'Daniels announced that in addition to Santa Barbara, Poly will have games with Taft J. C. and Bakersfield J. C. There is also a possibility that the team may make a trip to the southland before the season is over.

Nosin' Around

This is your Nosin' Around columnist coming to you for the third consecutive week to let you know what's what and who's who.

HIGH SCHOOL DANCE!!!

There seems to be a certain red-headed Poly boy who has been dating Barbara Brown.

Well, there is one fellow here at Cal Poly who is faithful to "the one he left behind." This fellow, George Pappas, has more resistance to temptation and more determination than has been seen around here in many a day. There is a very pretty girl from our local high school that seems to have fallen for George, hook, line and sinker, but alas, he just won't see her. Some of the fellows are trying to see if they can't make him give in by finding dates for him, but it's no go. What a man!

Bill Struckmeyer has a beautiful date for tonight—she really is a nice kid.

Musicians Applauded At High School Program

Said Gil Brown, who has been to about every dance this year, "I really believe that the Collegians played better than they ever have this year. They were really in the groove."

Another thing worth mentioning is the fact that couples were seen dancing in the main hall of the building. I guess they just couldn't resist it. Could you?

Gil said that from the auditorium, students upstairs could be heard keeping time to the music. I guess it must be infectious. Some of the high school teachers knitting for Britain were keeping time to the music with their knitting needles. I guess the soldier who gets those sweaters or socks or whatever they are, will have to overlook a couple dropped stitches.

Quite a number of high school students made known the fact that they didn't realize that the orchestra was so good. They expressed the desire to come to the Poly dances in the future. However, some of the girls at the high school and junior college said they'd like to come, but they haven't dates and they don't want to come stag. Get busy, men.

Also on the entertainment bill were the Varsity and Collegiate Quartets. The Varsity quartet received the greatest applause on "Away to Rio," "Mandy Lee," and "On the Banks of the Wabash." "Hi, Neighbor," "Keep 'Em Flying," and "Yo Te Amo," by the Collegiate quartet, followed by the double quartet's "Steam Boat Bill," "Tavern in the Town," and "The Desperado" kept the audience in more or less a continual applause.

"This Concert," said Music Director Davidson, "is our part of the annual exchange of programs between the high school and Poly. We will expect an excellent program to be put on by the high school in the very near future."

"Superman of the week"—Stan Raymond.

"Supergirl of the week"—Pearl Macomber.

Your Nosin' Around columnist expects to see you all at the dance tonight. BUT—be careful for I'll be there also.

WATCH FOR WHAT'S WHAT AND WHO'S WHO!

Former Polyite 2nd Lieutenant

Three former Poly students received commissions at the U. S. Naval Air Station, Corpus Christi, Texas, this week, one as a second lieutenant in the marine reserves.

First to be commissioned at the air school was William Whitaker of Santa Paula, who entered the flying service only a year ago. He received his second lieutenant ranking February 12. Whitaker took his primary training at the Long Beach Naval Reserve Air Base. He specialized in flying the Navy's fastest fighting planes while taking his advanced training at Corpus Christi. Whitaker enrolled as an inspection student at San Dimas in January, 1939.

Winfield Munro, and Ronald Dumont both were commissioned as ensigns in the naval reserve. Both students took their training at the Oakland Naval Reserve Aviation Base.

Munro specialized in flying the huge patrol bombers. He was a Company Sub Commander with the cadet rank of Lieutenant in the Aviation Cadet Regiment.

An electrical specialist, Dumont is taking additional training in the cadet school. At Corpus Christi he served as Battalion Commander with the cadet rank of Lieutenant.

War Effects Engines Boys

By Dave Plant

Since the entry of the United States into the war many changes have come over the electrical department. A total of 14 students have left to enter some branch of the service. Six of these were second year students and eight first year students. Those that have remained behind are setting aside their personal ambitions to do their part for the nation.

In line with the students activities, J. J. Hyer, electrical instructor says, "We have considered it advisable to develop the practical skills as much as possible." The students are following this aim since there is now a definite and important purpose in their training. This has spurred the group on considerably.

A special training is also being held in this department and that is the United States sponsored defense training course, including maintenance and repair work in preparation for certain positions with the military service.

New Student Like Poly Life

By Alvin Quist

"Poly has the friendliest students of any school I've ever seen." Those were the words spoken by a short course student shortly after arriving at Cal Poly. He stated that all the fellows seem to stick together as one big family.

The friendly feeling combined with the home-like atmosphere of the campus caught this "short timer" in its grip the very first thing. "If it weren't for the radios here and there in the dormitories, a person wouldn't even know that there is a war," he said.

Being a resident of one of the "chicken coops," this student mentioned that he had no complaints concerning board and room. He even went so far as to say, "I think the food is swell."

"The only thing of importance I don't like about Poly," he muttered hesitatingly, "is the lack of the feminine side of life." (That's right Polyites, we have another wolf to add to our gang).

When asked his opinion of the courses taught at Poly he said, "The practical methods that Poly presents are just the formula for a later success."

Thus were the straight from the shoulder statements of a new student, believe it or not.

Rumor has it that Bob Winterbourne's sister, Alice, is so bright that she caused a reddish addition to Leroy Lieb's complexion at the basketball game at Chapman.

George Ilg pulled a "quickie" on the boys in Organic by giving them a big build up for a test, then giving them the same test they had previously taken. What did you say Joe?

Poly's annual is going to be the best ever this year, Jean Overland insists. Never saw her name on the staff, Dwight.

Why won't the dream girl of the dorm F dairy freshmen give the boys a break and go into the milking barn when she buys milk? How about your public, Barbara?

It has been reported that C. O. McCorkle is giving Herb Fisher a bad time these days in marketing. What seems to be the trouble, Herb?

Flash . . . Frank Whitmore and Jim Lawson have suddenly got religion in their bones.

Can this year's Poly Royal heads insure a good rodeo by giving the boys the place, equipment, and a few weeks of actual practice rather than the five minutes given in the past?

What's wrong—have the boys given up taking out the girls because of the present tire shortage? A contingent of local females were seen bravely riding bicycles hither and yon over the campus.

Poly's Judging team which placed third in a recent National contest will enter the Hoard's Dairyman contest soon, George M. Drumm, dairy instructor, announced.

DRAFT REGISTRATION

Nearly one-fourth of the Poly enrollment were affected by the draft registration for those between the ages of 20-44 not already signed for conscription, which took place last weekend, Registrar Eugene A. Egan reports.

According to his records, 118 students at the school fell in the age group required to sign up February 14, 15 and 16.

Quick Freezer Has Two Motors

By Dick Tarech

Motors supplying the power for the new quick freezing plant are going to have a unique control system, said J. J. Hyer, head of the electrical department.

According to Hyer, the two motors are to operate through two magnetic switches which are in turn controlled by one push button switch. Both motors will start together and stop together. Each motor will have its own overload protection so that if one motor starts to heat up, the current to that motor will automatically be shut off and the other motor will continue supplying power.

The equipment is being installed by three students, and according to student foreman, Don Genasol, the work will be completed and the motors ready to run in the very near future.

Visit Ranch Of Former Polyite

Demonstrating what hard work and good management could do, Bud Davis, former Poly student, explained the set-up of his poultry farm located a short distance from San Luis Obispo, to students of the present poultry class when they made a trip to his place Tuesday afternoon.

Davis has a 4000 capacity poultry plant including five laying houses, fifteen sunshine brooders, a battery brooder outfit, and a large pullet range. In addition to his egg-production business, he conducts a profitable meat-bird business. He is part owner of a large dairy ranch in the Los Oso valley also.
